Get it here If your softener is not softening your water, check the following:There Is No Power In The UnitCheck the display. It should show the time of the day and should not be flashing.Check to see that the 24 volt power transformer is plugged into wall outlet. If the power cord has not been installed, follow the directions in the Installation Instructions, or call your installer. Download a copy of the Owner's Manual and/or Installation InstructionsCheck The House Fuse/Circuit BreakerMake sure that the wall outlet is operating. Plug a lamp into the wall socket and see if it works. If it is not working, check to see if a wall switch operates the outlet. If so, the switch must be in the "on position" at all times. Once the power is restored, set-up the control for the operation.Check Your Salt LevelLift the lid and make sure that the salt level is 1/4 full. It is recommended though to have it 3/4 full. If there is no salt, fill it with salt and initiate the regeneration cycle. Locate the touch-hold pad and press until " recharge now" flashes in display.Allow a day or so for soft water to flush through water heater.Check for a Salt BridgeSometimes a hard crust or salt bridge forms in the salt storage area, and underneath it is a mixture of salt water and empty space. When this happens, the salt will not dissolve in the water to make brine.To check for a salt bridge: Take a broom handle or something similar and carefully push it down into the salt. If the broom handle hits something hard (and it is not the floor or sides), you have a salt bridge.To remove: Carefully break the bridge with the broom handle. Avoid pounding or damaging the inside walls of the unit. If the salt bridge is difficult to break up, pour 1 gallon of warm (not hot) water into the tank to help dissolve the bridge.The Unit Is Plumbed IncorrectlyFrom the front of the softener, the hard water comes into the unit on the right side and the soft water out on the left. The pipe on the left should go to the hot water heater. The pipe on the right comes from the main water line coming into the home. See the Installation Instructions that accompanied the unit for correct plumbing. If the plumbing is incorrect contact your installer. Download a copy of the Owner's Manual and/or Installation InstructionsCheck The Bypass Valve Behind The Control PanelIt has a knob that says "push for bypass." For proper operation, the knob needs to be in an "out" position.Allow a day or so for soft water to flush through water heater. Nozzle And Venturi Dirty, Incorrectly Assembled Or DamagedClean the nozzle and venturi assembly (see Owner's Manual for instructions). With water pressure to the water softening system off, take the nozzle assembly apart. Inspect, clean, and replace as needed. Any foreign particle(s), scratches, nicks, etc. in the passages can prevent operation. Be sure holes in the gasket are centered over holes in the housing. Download a copy of the Owner's Manual and/or Installation InstructionsValve Drain Hose Pinched, Plugged, Elevated Too High Otherwise RestrictedAny restriction in the drain hose may prevent proper operation of the nozzle and venturi and reduce or prevent brine draw during recharge. MORE FROM QUESTIONSANSWERED.NET © 1996-2014, Amazon.com, Inc. or its affiliates Dishwashers make it easy to take care of the mundane tasks of washing dishes. If you have a GE dishwasher, you may run into some common issues that prevent it from working. If you find yourself in that predicament, listed below are some possible fixes.The Dishwasher Isn't Draining After a WashIf you notice water pooling at the base of your dishwasher tub, it means the machine isn't draining properly. The first thing you should do is check for a blockage. Sometimes there are large pieces of paper or food blocking the sump area in the back of the machine. You should also check the drain hose below the sink to make sure there isn't some sort of blockage or kink in the hose.The Dishes Aren't Being Rinsed ProperlyIf you notice the dishes are not being rinsed properly, with residue or bits of food remaining on the glasses and plates after the rinse cycle, there may be several solutions. First, make sure the dishwasher is actually connected to the hot water line and not to the cold water line. Make sure the drain hose is not installed over 72 inches high. If it is, it won't drain well and it will affect the dishes' cleanliness.The Dishwasher Isn't Filling With WaterIf your dishwasher isn't filling up with water, there could be a few issues. One could be an issue with the dishwasher flood float. This piece keeps the dishwasher from overflowing with water. If it somehow gets stuck, water won't be able to enter the dishwasher. Take the fine and ultra-fine filters off of the machine, and then remove the flood float from the sump area. Straighten out the float, making sure it's not damaged and there's no garbage or pieces of debris floating inside the sump area. If the float is damaged, order a new piece.Lights Keep Blinking on the MachineIf you're experiencing random or steady blinking lights or beeping sounds with your machine, there could be several issues. If your machine is beeping every 30 seconds, it probably means the door unlocked during the cycle. Push the door closed so it can stop beeping. If your start/reset light is blinking, it means your dishwasher has been reset. Sometimes reset light blinks because there's a power surge. Try resetting the machine to see if it stops.The Timer Dial Seems StuckIf it seems like the timer dial is stuck, and it can't be moved manually, the problem is usually caused by objects stopping the detergent cup from opening. Check your machine racks to make sure there's nothing blocking the detergent cup. When you start your cycle, make sure the detergent cup is fully closed. There could also be something sticky between the control panel and the timer, preventing the timer from moving. Clean the area thoroughly to get rid of any stickiness.
